PACKARD BUYS LAND FOR RORGE PLANT

DETROIT, Sept. 11.—The Packard Motor Car company has again been forced to a considerable extension by the growth of its motor carriage and truck business. It has purchased more than 10 acres adjoining its present holdings. The tract is valued at upwards of $75,000 and is located between Strong avenue and the Belt Line railroad in the outskirts of Detroit. With its latest purchase the company now has more than 100 acres in its factory site, a strip about 1,000 feet wide and just a mile long.

While the use to which the new holdings will be put has not been announced, it is believed that large additions to the forge shops and foundry will be erected. The Packard forge department is already one of the largest in the industry and the proposed extension is taken to mean that even more attention will be paid to high quality steels entering the manufacture of Packard products, and their heat treatment.

What Your Banker Told You

Your Banker Told You

—Every business can afford and should have an audit at regular periods.

—That such an audit would justify a Public Accountant to give a certified balance sheet, which is very desirable to the banks when applications for loans are made.

—That oftentimes loans are made to business men merely on their personal credit, when, if authoritative information concerning their business and management were available, their credit might be larger.

—Your banker is, or should be, your best friend. He always wants you to succeed. Better take his advice and have an audit now.
